Fixed Income Markets Outlook

- Global growth remains a key concern in the evolving economic landscape.
- Central bankers globally are expected to balance the risks between inflation and growth.
- The decline in the dollar index and US growth will be a key watch.
- Trumps tariff threats and spillovers on currencies is the existing risk that is driving the markets volatile.
- On the domestic front, evolving growth dynamics have taken center stage.
- RBI's forward guidance and the rate cut gives us confidence on growth supported future policy expectations.
- Recent softening in domestic inflations paves the way for RBI to take calibrated policy decisions.
- RBI has been and is expected to continue infusing liquidity through OMO, FX swap in essence of the monetary policy stance
- Irrespective of the tools, liquidity measures are expected to have a positive ramifications on the short end of the curve.
- The spreads on the short end are already elevated and attractive, and an expected rate cut going forward may compress the current spreads.
- Recent moves by RBI give us confidence that liquidity will be managed in spirit of the stance.
- Having said that, the fundamentals of India's fiscal demand supply remain balanced and that is expected to maintain a downside bias on entire segment of the curve.
