ABOUT THE FUND

- Baroda BNP Paribas Large cap funds typically invest in blue chip companies and market leaders which are expected to generate revenue and earnings due to their established businesses and tenure.
- These companies being seasoned and large corporate houses, are expected to withstand market cycles. Mid or small cap companies do not have the same level of stability and therefore carry a higher degree of risk than large caps.
- Baroda BNP Paribas Large Cap Fund invests predominantly in such large capitalisation companies which has a proven track record of growth in the long term.
- The Scheme intends to be well diversified across sectors and intends to focus on quality names exhibiting sound management and fundamentals with sustainable earnings growth potential.
- The Scheme is suitable for investors who have a long term investment horizon.

WHY LARGE CAP?

- Large-cap funds are equity funds that invest in relatively stable companies (top 100 companies listed on the stock exchange).
- Owing to the high degree of stability of the underlying equity stocks, large cap funds have lower risks compared to mid and small caps making them the ideal investment option for both new and seasoned investors.
- Large cap companies are leaders in their respective industries and tend to provide relatively stable returns over longer periods.
- These companies owing to their large capital are likely to pay off debt on time, withstand the market turmoil and have a good debt-to-equity ratio.

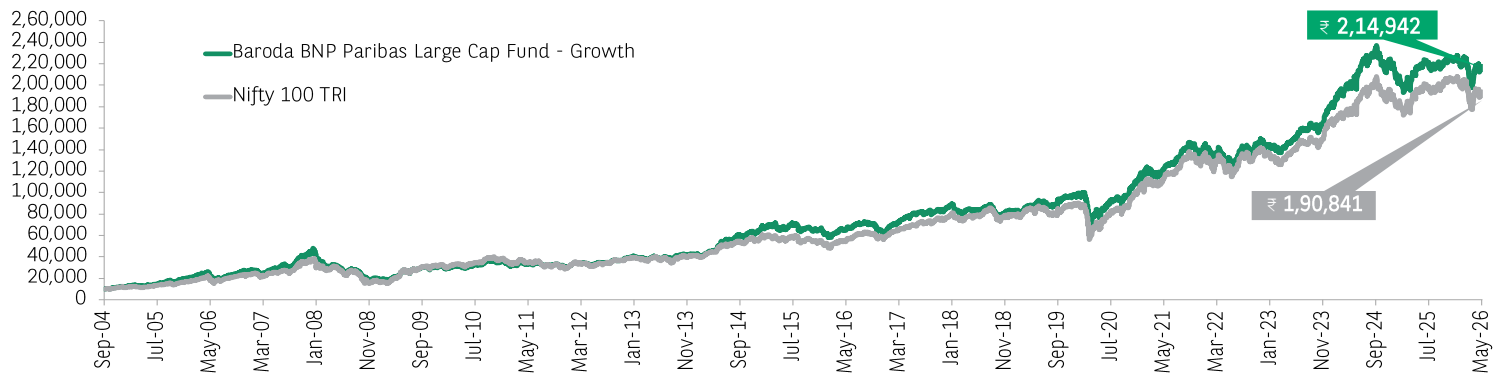

PORTFOLIO POSITIONING

- Over the course of CY2025 and CY2026, FII's have sold Rs4.4tn (~Rs2.8tn CY26 y-t-d) of equity assets and given their traditional ownership skew towards large caps, that segment of the market can continued to bear the brunt of this sale. The y-t-d FII sale has meant that large cap indices are down ~7.5% while mid & small cap indices are up between 1.5-2%. This has made valuations on large caps far more comfortable relative to other segments.
- Our month end figures for large cap exposures came in at ~80% largely because of a corporate demerger of a large cap name towards April end and not because of an active trimming on large cap exposures. Mid and small cap exposures are consequently placed at ~17.4%.
- We added to some weights across industrials, healthcare and materials during the month. (~30-50bps each). We trimmed some exposure to the energy and utilities spaces (~20-30bps each).
- We continue to stay overweight on industrials, utilities and are also now mildly overweight on IT. We have gone underweight financials now and are underweight energy and materials. Within materials we retain our exposure to metals but marginally trim our exposure to cement - a freight sensitive sector witnessing the impact of fuel price increases into May.
