Current Portfolio Positioning

Overweight:

- We are overweight on Consumer Staples as we believe that the sector could benefit from twin tailwinds of recovery in margins as well as demand revival.
- We are also overweight on Industrials as we remain bullish on the capex rebound in India due to combination of factors like government expenditure, import substitution, PLI schemes and China +1 policy.

Underweight:

- We remain underweight in discretionary consumption, particularly retailing as we believe the base effect may start to catch up. We are underweight in healthcare sector, most of it emanating from healthcare services where we believe that competitive intensity is high, and valuations are not favourable.
- Some of the notable changes during the month have been increase in weight of financial sector, healthcare and IT services. We have reduced weight in Materials and Energy.
